Long-lasting results, fewer injections.

Hydrelle is the first FDA-approved HA filler to contain the anesthetic lidocaine providing you a more comfortable in-office experience with immediate and long-lasting results.

Hydrelle is a technologically advanced formulation that is clinically proven to be safe and effective. It delivers the highest concentration of hyaluronic acid, which is found naturally in your body. One syringe can improve the appearance of your wrinkles and can last up to a year.*

Hydrelle is an affordable wrinkle treatment option for long-lasting results and potentially fewer facial injections.

Consider the many benefits of Hydrelle, then ask your doctor if Hydrelle facial wrinkle filler is the right choice for you.

What is Hyaluronic Acid?

HA is a form of sugar that is a natural component of healthy and hydrated skin. HA functions like a matrix to hold together collagen and elastin. When injected into the skin, it attracts water and provides volume to smooth and soften the look of wrinkles.

How Does Hydrelle Work?

Hydrelle is a soft, malleable injectable gel designed to reduce facial wrinkles. Hydrelle immediately adds a natural fullness and reduces the unwanted wrinkles that make us look older than we feel.

Cost Effective Results You Will Love

Because Hydrelle with lidocaine is so concentrated, frequently a single syringe is all you need to treat smile lines. Often 50% less filler material is needed compared to other HA fillers, representing a huge cost savings for you. Fewer syringes may be needed to achieve the results you desire.

How Long Does Hydrelle Last?

Unlike other fillers that require multiple syringes and re-treatments, Hydrelle can last up to a year.* Talk to your doctor to discuss your specific needs and expectations.

What Should I Expect?

Since everyone's skin is unique, some patients may experience temporary redness, swelling or bruising. These symptoms normally disappear in a few days.

No skin-testing is necessary, but Hydrelle is not for patients with sulfite allergies (i.e. red wine, dried fruit, etc). Hydrelle is FDA-approved for moderate to severe facial lines and wrinkles, such as nasolabial folds. Hydrelle is not recommended for use in the lips, for superficial lines, or around the eyes. As with any dermal filler, in rare cases, other reactions may occur. For Patient Information details, talk to your clinician.

Are Hydrelle Treatments Expensive?

Pricing is comparable to other HA fillers. However, Hydrelle with lidocaine can be much more affordable, because it's long-lasting and often requires fewer syringes compared to other HA fillers.

Making the Choice

Talk to your clinician to see if Hydrelle is right for you. An excellent, cost-effective option for wrinkle treatment, Hydrelle provides a natural look and feel, with potentially fewer re-treatments or painful re-injections.
